IN MEMORIAM
Orange, In loving memory of Charles Willis Orange, who departed this life June 19, 1957.
He had a nature you could not help loving, and a heart that was pure than gold. And to those who knew him and loved him His memory will never grow old.
Through the darkness of sorrow, I see a light, Isn't it Cheer, Knowing God will always help me, That his love is always near, He gives me strength to carry, The burdens I must bear, I find sustaining comfort, Knowing you are in his care. Sadly missed by wife

DON'T STAY AWAY FROM CHURCH
—because you are poor. There is no admission charge.
—because you are rich. We can help you cure that.
—because it rains. You go to work in the rain.
—because it is hot. So is the golf course.
—because it is cold. It's warm and friendly inside.
—because no one invited you. People go to the movies without being asked.
—because you have little children. What if you didn't have them? The church has a well supervised nursery.
—because you don't like the preacher. He's human like you.
—because your job makes you tired. You may lose your job.
—because there are hypocrites. You associate with them daily.
—because the church wants money. So does the grocer.
—because you have plenty of time ahead of you to give to God and the church. ARE YOU SURE?

Happiness is a perfume you cannot pour on others without getting a few drops on yourself.

New OCDM Director to Lead Test; Plan 'Biggest Ever' Conelrad Drill

Operation Alert 1961, the eighth annual civil defense training exercise for improving the Nation's nonmilitary defense, will be held from April 26 to 30.

Nationwide survival and recovery actions to deal with "enemy attack" will be tested under the leadership of Frank B. Ellis, new Director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

Director Ellis revealed that this year's Conelrad Radio Alert drill, scheduled for 10 minutes starting at 4 p.m. (EST) on April 26, will be "the biggest emergency broadcast exercise ever observed on the North American continent."

All television and radio broadcast stations will leave the air. Radio broadcast stations authorized for Conelrad programming will return to the air almost immediately to carry messages from Federal, State and local officials stressing public preparedness against attack.

• • •

RADIO NETS participating on a voluntary basis will include those of police and fire departments, highway departments, railroads, taxis, industries, amateurs and conservation departments. Aviation and marine radios and international radio message services will be the only major transmitters exempted from the drill by the Federal Communications Commission.

The OCDM Director stressed that this annual exercise has no connection with current world conditions, but added:

"It is the firm intention of OCDM, under the direction of President Kennedy, to bring home to the American people their spiritual obligation to prepare for survival and to aid in the survival of others. Operation Alert 1961 should assume a new dimension in our thinking. It is more than a training exercise for preparing the civilian population for self-protective measures during emergencies. It is a challenge to all of us to support the peace-preserving efforts of the President by demonstrating that we are strengthening our home front."

The Alert exercise will begin April 26 with two days of increased readiness buildup, leading on April 28 to a mock enemy attack, Conelrad drill, simulated warning of attack and the sounding of public sirens in many areas. Traffic will be halted briefly and people in some States will be directed to take cover. Key personnel in some State governments will move to emergency relocation sites. Many industrial firms will conduct their own disaster-preparedness drills.
